To Plant this Fall

Plantings made in the fall will make good root growth to enable them to start off in early spring like veteran plants.

September and October are excellent months to plant certain Hardy Perennials and Evergreens.

Dormant Roses and many other deciduous Shrubs and Trees are best planted from mid-October on through mid-December, depending on latitude.

Take advantage of setting out fresh plants this fall while new stocks are complete and you have more time to plant in mellow, workable ground. You'll enjoy the benefits next spring.

FLORIBUNDA ROSES

Plant these free-flowering, hardy varieties this fall for great masses of blooms in clusters all of next summer and fall. Good for both cutting and brilliant landscape effect. Use them informally in Rose beds, in permanent groups for color in the foreground of hardy shrub borders, for straight-line border or hedge planting instead of the common privet or barberry. Average growth to about 3 feet or more if desired; easily regulated by simple pruning.

ROSE GROWERS NURSERYMEN

Old-Fashioned Roses

Every grown man and woman cherishes some memory of the fragrant, unsophisticated charm of the Roses of long ago. But regardless of their sentimental value, they have many sterling qualities, not the least of which is their old-Rose perfume, oft-times rare in modern Roses. Friends of Bobbink & Atkins have known for a long time of our sincere interest in Old-Fashioned Roses, and we promise this interest shall never wane as the years roll on.

Planted in mixed shrubbery borders simulating old-fashioned gardens, they may be given a place apart from the Rose garden where they bloom among the wallflowers, the daffodils and the primroses, blending their fragrance with the lilies and pinks, and all the other delightful perennials. The true gardener realizes they seldom bloom much the first year, but like lilacs, Philadelphus, Deutzia, Weigela, and other hardy shrubs they continue year after year with the least amount of care. They may be kept pruned back to about 3 feet if one wishes to enjoy the very finest blooms on Rose shrubs.

THE PEONY • King of Perennials

Acclaimed for its regal beauty and gorgeous colors

There are many reasons why Peonies deserve the high place they have among garden plants. They are extra hardy and after the toughest of winters the herbaceous types never fail to push their pink shoots through the ground at their appointed time. As large as a small shrub, and with attractive, healthy foliage, the plants are good to look at both before and after bloom. About all they ask is good, rich, loamy soil and an annual top-dressing of bonemeal or thoroughly decayed manure.

TREE PEONIES

A special list of varieties available this fall will be mailed upon request.

Delivery in October and Early November

The Peony has often been called King of the Perennials because it is so dependably hardy and long-lived. So plan to plant more Peonies this fall.

The CHRISTMAS ROSE

(Helleborus niger) 2-YEAR POTTED PLANTS

All Helleborus are grown by nurserymen from seeds. The general practice is to offer bare-root plants grown from seedlings. It has been found, however, that these bare-root plants are difficult to ship and transplant successfully, so that many losses naturally occur. We have, therefore, adopted a system of potting the choicest seedlings and growing them on for another season. When setting out our strong plants, which are already established in good, firm, ideal soil, you are sure to get more and better blooms in much shorter time, because all shock and risk of transplanting is eliminated. Our plants continue to go right on growing and will bloom within a few months. Many have already flowered here in the Nursery.

Helleborus will thrive, bloom and look better when planted in groups of three or more.

Do not use strong fertilizers. A good garden soil, well drained and with a small amount of leaf mold or peat moss worked into it, will produce good results in a secluded location.

Christmas Roses: 3 for $4.00; 6 for $7.50; 12 for $11.50. Postpaid.

When they need pruning, do it immediately after blooming, so as to allow the plant time to grow the shoots that will produce the next season's bloom.

Acres of Roses

We grow hundreds of thousands of hardy Garden Roses annually in New Jersey. Visitors to the fields this summer were impressed with the quality and size of the individual plants in bloom. Over 5000 Tree Roses budded on the hardy Rosa rugosa trunks are especially fine. You are cordially invited to see all the Roses continuing to bloom during September and October before harvest time.

Beautify and Improve Your Home Grounds

Most of us realize the importance of Landscape Beauty in relation to our Homes, our Streets, Municipal Parks, Memorial Parks, Institutions and Industrial Sites everywhere.

It is so very important to have the right tree, the right shrub and the right plant in the right place. We all get a big thrill when rearranging furniture and fixtures in our homes, and it seems an even greater thrill comes to those who rearrange their garden plantings from time to time. Sure enough, it takes some imagination to visualize the ultimate beauty and effect that one creates when planting suitable sizes. In all of these matters, our trained horticulturists are here to help you and to advise in detail what, when, and where to plant. We therefore invite you to come to the nursery to see the plants; most of them will be ready for you to take right along home during planting seasons from September to December.

SELECT YOUR OWN EVERGREEN TREES AND SHRUBS

It is impossible to list all the plants we grow. The larger trees, specimen evergreens and shrubs that require transplanting with a large ball of earth, are mainly for local sales; it is obvious why it is not practical or economical to transport them any distance by rail.

Our "Balled and Burlapped" Evergreens . . . large Broadleaf Evergreen and Deciduous Shrubs . . . Rhododendrons and Azaleas . . . large Fruit Trees . . . Vines . . . Perennials . . . are usually ready for "Cash and Carry" sales at proper planting seasons. Well-informed salesmen are ready to assist you to make your garden a part of your home life. Our business is not only to produce good plants but to advise you how to use them. For the benefit of those who cannot visit us weekdays, we are open Sunday 9:00 to 4:30, during the planting seasons.
